

DAEiNA Meeting 2024

Call for Papers and Participation

The Annual Danish Academic Economists in North America (DAEiNA) Meeting will be held at the Kellogg School of Management's Global Hub facility on the Northwestern University campus in Evanston, Illinois, on April 26-27.

Friday, April 26, will largely consist of an informal welcome dinner, while the full day on Saturday, April 27, will be dedicated to scholarly presentations, a concluding organizational meeting, and then the conference dinner. Breakfast and lunch will also be provided on Saturday.

Submissions for potential presentation will be accepted from now until the conference, but we will follow a "first come, first potential accept" strategy, where we will accept papers along the way until the program has been filled. We seek to highlight work by younger scholars across a mix of economic topics, but good papers by senior scholars can also be included and there will be a Keynote by a senior North American scholar – likely during lunch or dinner on Saturday.

For now, simply email Torben G. Andersen at t-andersen@northwestern.edu with your paper submission. A full conference program will be distributed as soon as possible.

Participation in the meeting is open to anyone who has (i) a connection to Denmark and (ii) a past, present, or future interest in doing economic research in North America. I would also like to know if you simply plan to attend the meeting. To indicate participation, use the same email: t-andersen@northwestern.edu. Later, we will provide a formal registration link and circulate some discounted hotel accommodation possibilities for Thursday through Saturday nights.

Finally, let me mention that there is a Northwestern Economics-wide event on Thursday, April 25, 4:00-5:30pm, that you may have an interest in attending, namely the Susan Bies Lecture on Economics and Public Policy: A Conversation with Gita Gopinath conducted by Larry Christiano. Gita is deputy Managing Director at the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and served as Chief Economist at IMF before that. Prior to joining the IMF, Gita was at Harvard University. If you arrive on midday Thursday, you will be able to attend this event as well.

We are looking forward to seeing you at Kellogg in late April. For more information regarding DAEiNA and our activities, visit our website at http:// www.daeina.net.

Regards from the DAEiNA Board

Torben G. Andersen, Professor, Kellogg School, Northwestern University
Mikkel Sølvsten, Associate Professor, Aarhus University
Ole Agersnap, PhD Student, Princeton University
Morten Ø. Nielsen, Professor, Aarhus University